

DITORO

KENYAAMZEE

Mosa, fondly nicknamed 'Toro' by her late great grandmother, sat on her bed enjoying her daily bursts of laughter and conversation with her best friend Koketso over the phone.

Koketso stop being dramatic, Koko and I were never really close, obviously no one wants their great grandmother to die, but it is life-unfortunately.

Don't get me wrong, I loved her, but she literally never paid attention to me unless it was to send me around or do chores and you know that cause you always had to do the same hahaha.

I know you and Koko didn't exactly see eye to eye but still! Its sad.

Also, They split the estate. I got a box of something. Haven't opened it yet.

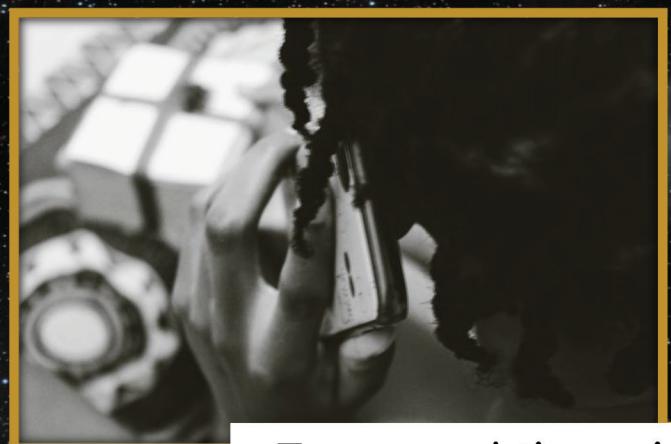

I'll open it, but I don't expect much.
Probably one of the porcelain kittens she loved, which I'd appreciate, but she never trusted me with more and that's what hurt most.
I will send a pic once I've opened it up.
The box is pretty.

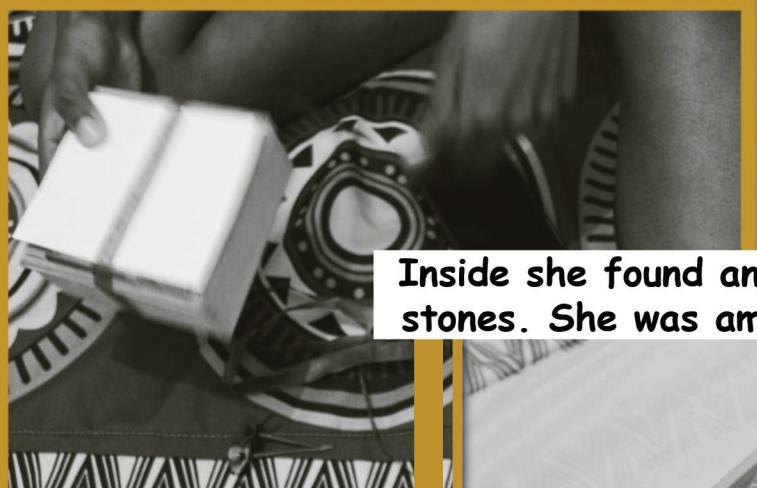

Koko loved you in her own special way Mosa.
Whatever she gave you would be special in its own way too

Toro opened the package

Inside she found an African bracelet with 9 gem stones. She was amazed at how beautiful it was.

Toro sent a picture to Kokie and immediately called her.

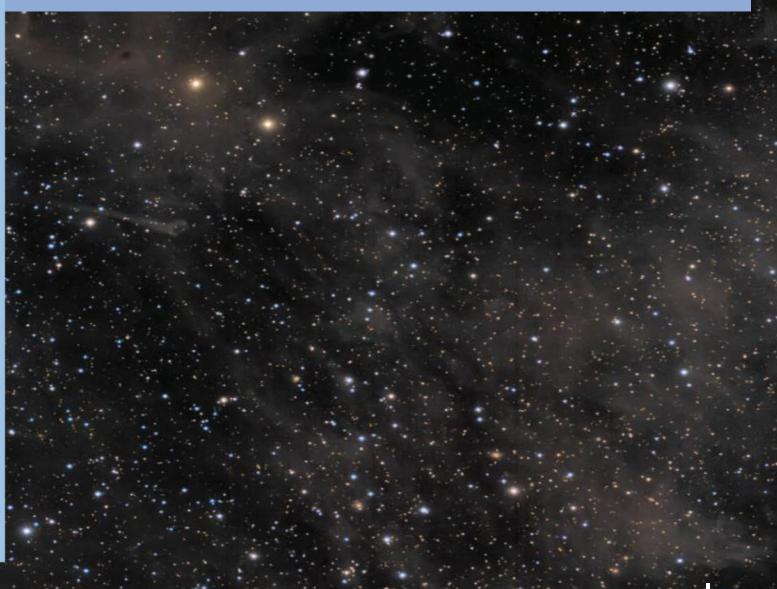

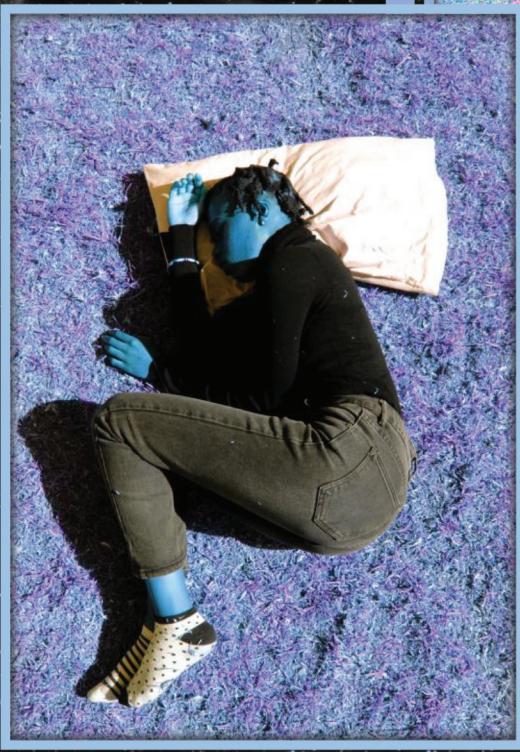

Friend its so beautiful, I love it!...Anyways I have to go to sleep. I won't become an engineer by talking to you haha!

Goodnight love!
Study well.

Later that night, in her deepest of sleep, Toro was transported to another world, unbeknown to her..

Toro woke up.

Wait, where the hell am I?

What is this?
Why is the ground purple? Am I dreaming?

Scared and confused, she noticed that there was a trail of flowers laid down beside her. She could see that it ended a couple of meters away and disappeared into the bush.

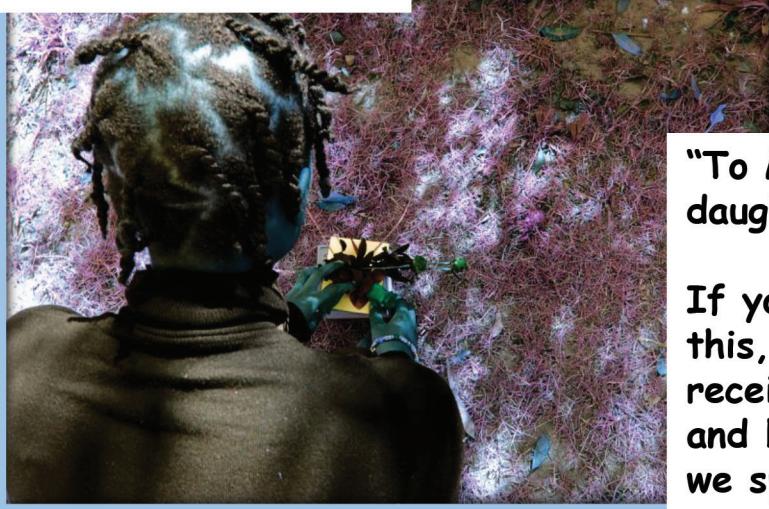

She decided to follow the mysterious trail of flowers to find out where it leads to and if she can find some answers.

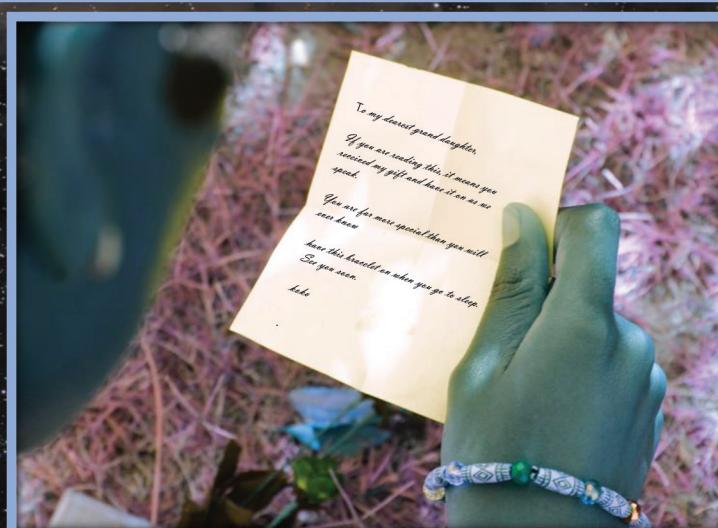

As she reached the end of the trail, in the middle of the bushes, under shade and leafy trees, she found a box similar to the one she received her bracelet in. Inside, she found a note.

"To My dear Grand daughter,

If you are reading this, it means you received my gift and have it on as we speak. I will see you soon to explain what is happening. Have this bracelet on when you go to sleep. It is the key to understanding your future and the future of the collective. See you soon.

Koko

Suddenly, Toro's Alarm rings, bringing her back to her reality.

"See you soon" ?!
Did I just- No, not today,
no way!

To be continued...

"AKOTH WHERE'S THE REMOTE"

KALABARS HELPING MILLENIALS RID THEIR PARENTS THE
"PASS THE REMOTE" PANDEMIC

Kalabars

African brewed stories